

has produced volumes of poetry from the following:
Languages Countries

Arabic
 Armenian
 Basque
 Bulgarian
 Catalan
 Czech
 Danish
 Dutch
 Estonian
 French
 German
 Greek
 Hindi
 Hungarian
 Indonesian
 Irish Gaelic
 Italian
 Japanese
 Latvian
 Lithuanian
 Macedonian
 Polish
 Punjabi
 Romanian
 Russian
 Slovakian
 Slovenian
 Spanish
 Turkish

Algeria • Argentina
 Armenia • Australia
 Austria
 Basque Country
 Belgium • Bulgaria
 Canada • Catalonia
 Cuba • Czech Republic
 Denmark
 Estonia
 France
 Germany • Greece
 Holland • Hungary
 Indonesia
 Irish Republic
 India • Italy
 Japan
 Latvia • Lithuania
 Luxembourg
 Macedonia
 New Zealand
 Pakistan • Palestine
 Poland
 Romania • Russia
 Slovakia • Slovenia
 South Africa • Spain
 Switzerland
 Turkey

www.arcpublications.co.uk

*"Arc – the meeting
 point for poets of
 all latitudes..."*

VICTOR RODRIGUEZ NUNEZ
 Cuban poet

Publishers of Poetry in Translation and in English from around the world

"Of all the wonderful institutions mauled by these cuts in funding, Arc Publications is perhaps the greatest loss to English-speaking poetry. Their specialist work is done by no-one else in the UK and if Arc falls, another door to the outside world closes."

SASHA DUGDALE, poet and translator

"One can't imagine a dialogue between contemporary British poetry and the rest of Europe without Arc."

PATRICK MCGUINNESS

poet and translator,
 Professor of French and Comparative Literature, Oxford

Supported by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

From 2012, Arts Council of England
 funding for Arc CUT to

ZERO

www.arcpublications.co.uk

Did you know that

- Arc – as a matter of policy – is the ONLY publisher in the UK publishing translations as bi-lingual texts.
- Arc publishes MORE poetry books in translation than all other UK presses put together.
- Arc published the FIRST EVER literary translation from the Slovak language.
- Arc is the ONLY publisher to produce a volume of poetry by a living Armenian poet.
- Arc is the FIRST EVER publisher to publish a book of poems by a living Lithuanian poet.
- Arc has published over FORTY TITLES of translated poetry in the last 5 years.
- Arc has published SIXTY-THREE POETS' work in translation over the past 5 years.
- Arc has commissioned over SIXTY-TWO TRANSLATORS in the past 5 years – more than any other publisher in the UK.
- Arc is the ONLY publisher that consistently takes an interest in publishing the 'small' and endangered languages.
- Arc is the ONLY publisher producing two anthologies of poetry from the smaller languages per year, mainly by younger writers hitherto not available in the UK.
- Arc authors have appeared at over THIRTEEN LITERARY FESTIVALS and THIRTY-SIX SEPARATE VENUES in 2010 alone.
- Apart from translations, over the same 5 year period, Arc has published: TWENTY-NINE books by poets from the UK of which SEVEN are first collections and TEN books by international poets writing in English.

- Arc has been short-listed for the second year running (2010 & 2011) for the international Griffin Poetry Prize.
- The prestigious Scott Moncrieff Prize for the best literary translation from French in 2010 was awarded to an Arc translator, the poet Susan Wicks, for her translation of Valérie Rouzeau's Cold Spring in Winter, a title in Arc's flagship translation series, 'Visible Poets'.

Help convince the Arts Council of England that Arc is worth funding on a REGULAR BASIS by writing to us on e-mail: arc.publications@btconnect.com commenting on our website, or joining us on the Arc Facebook.